The ALCWRT Spring Field Trip will take us to one of the most crucial areas of the Civil War, namely the Shenandoah Valley circa 1862. Guiding us on this adventure will be our old friend Scott Patchan. Well- known for his master of battlefield tours, along with his particular knowledge and background of both Valley Campaigns, you can rest assured that Scott will make this trip educational, unforgettable, and even – at times – humorous. In addition, Scott has received much praise for his book on the 1864 campaign, “Shenandoah Summer”.

We will concentrate on the 1862 Campaign that made Stonewall Jackson a legend as the Confederacy’s foremost hero, earning the sobriquet “Foot Cavalry” for his soldiers who marched over 350 miles. Unbelievably, they also defeated three separate Union armies in five battles, seized numerous supplies, and immobilized an additional 60,000 Federals. Also included in our “list of characters” are George McClellan, Nathaniel Banks, John Fremont, Irvin McDowell and Richard Ewell (just to name a few). While we doubt marching more than 350 miles will be part of this tour, you can count on visiting the sites associated with this fight, along with an in-depth discussion of the personalities involved. This is not a trip to be missed..!

All in all, this tour promises to be one of our best. Please join us and enjoy four days of camaraderie, education and lots of fun and laughter.
